

How to Get the Anti-Aging Vitamins

Your ancestors, before Noah's Flood, got the anti-aging vitamins, MePiA and MePA, in their drinking water. Dr. Aardsma's Anti-Aging Vitamins dietary supplement is sold as a liquid in a convenient dropper bottle. Each day, simply add a few drops to a glass, fill the glass with water, and drink it. You will then be getting your anti-aging vitamins the way your long-ago ancestors did.

Dr. Aardsma is giving his Anti-Aging Vitamins away for free while waiting on FDA

The Biblical Chronologist is ready to sell vitamins MePiA and MePA to you as a patent-pending dietary supplement for $29.95 per bottle of 450 drops (about 50¢ per person per day). However, the law requires that the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) be involved. FDA does not approve dietary supplements, but it holds veto power over their introduction into interstate commerce. Bureaucratic wheels turn slowly. It may be many months before we have a green light from the FDA to sell the vitamin. The FDA Journal page at www.BiblicalChronologist.org is designed to keep you informed and up to date on this process so you can understand what the holdup is.

While waiting on the FDA, Dr. Aardsma is gifting his anti-aging vitamins dietary supplement to all who write asking for it. It is now known that aging is a vitamin deficiency disease. This disease is deadly. It affects everyone today, whether young or old. Your only hope against this disease is Dr. Aardsma's anti-aging vitamins. Dr. Aardsma feels that it would be as wrong to withhold these anti-aging vitamins from you as it would be to withhold a life preserver ring from someone drowning at sea.

You may use the enclosed order / re-order form to request the vitamins. Or, simply send us your name and address typed or printed on a 3x5 card (or similar piece of paper) and postage stamps totaling $7.75 and we will mail you a bottle of Dr. Aardsma's Anti-Aging Vitamins. Our mailing address is:

Give a Gift

If you are able to give a gift to help with the task of bringing the anti-aging vitamins to the world, please do. Dr. Aardsma is not independently wealthy, and this work has neither government grants nor corporate funding behind it. Simply include a check made out to "The Biblical Chronologist" with your order. You may also give through PayPal at www.BiblicalChronologist.org. Note that your gift will be a tax-paid gift, not a tax-deductible donation (we are not a non-profit corporation), so the package with your bottle of Dr. Aardsma's Anti-Aging Vitamins will contain neither an invoice nor a receipt.
