• News:

Recent research results have now shown that vitamin MePA is only half of the story. Studies in the ARP lab have revealed that there are two closely related vitamins involved in the cure for aging: MePA and MePiA.

Vitamin MePA provides humans with numerous health benefits, as evidenced by many testimonials. Vitamin MePiA increases longevity, as evidenced by increased maximum life spans for both fruit flies and mice.

Dr. Aardsma has now published an addendum to his 2017 book "Aging: Cause and Cure." The addendum gives the details about this additional vitamin discovery. It is available as a free download here: www.biblicalchronologist.org/products/Aging_book.php
